

To whom it may Concern:

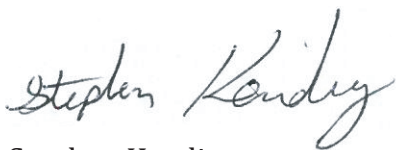

Illuma Care Connections is proud of its healthcare platform that enhances care coordination and helps provide proper healthcare for hundreds of thousands of people.

Our platform connects healthcare payers and providers in the US to support Medicare. In 2015, we needed a team that could integrate with our existing team in a cost-effective manner. They needed to have deep technical expertise, nimbleness and continue to support us as we attempted to pivot technology platform. We were looking for a true partner; one that we could rely on whenever needed.

ColoredCow showed great capabilities of dealing with constraints and coming up with innovative ways to solve the challenges. We are happy with how our platform has turned out with their technological support and are thankful to have them as a partner.

ColoredCow team's responsiveness made it feel like they were a part of our team. They built the product the way we envisioned it and continue to support our evolving needs. They went the extra mile to consistently exceed their understanding of the healthcare domain and behave like true partners at each stage of building the application. They empathized with our team, our customers and worked in their interest.

On behalf of Illuma CC, I wish them great success.
